*for the Open the Book assemblies in Marown and Foxdale Primary Schools this week.

*and lament the marring of the earth, the destruction of plant and animal life and the scarring of creation as a result of war.

*for peace and reconciliation in all places of war; may the Church be an instrument of that peace and a means of restoring harmony amongst individuals and nations.

*for Palestine and Israel in their grief, pain, fear and suffering. We continue to pray for peace between Ukraine and Russia and for relief for those affected by the earthquake in Nepal.

*for all people exploring ministerial vocations and those who support and guide them.

*for people ill at home, in hospital or in hospice and for their families and friends as they seek to support them.
